CITY POLITICS.

Democrats Will Elect Six Councilmen This Year.

Some of the New Men Who Are Being Discussed For The Coming Nominations.

It is likely that the city Committee will hold a meeting in a few days and order primary elections in six wards to nominate a ticket for city councilmen. In the Fifth ward, conceded to the Republicans, a nomination will hardly be made.

Of the six wards that usually go Democratic, two were lost in 1897 by a fusion of all the elements opposed to the Democratic ticket. This year there has so far been no talk of a similar fusion and there will probably be a straight-out contest between Democrats and Republicans.

The Democrats are confident they will carry the city this fall by a larger majority than usual, as the excellent record of the Democratic majority in the present council will be strongly indorsed by the people. The lowering of the tax rate to $1.25, after paying $30,000 of the bonded debt, is one of the evidences of good government that has impressed conservative men of all parties with the benefits to be derived from keeping the Democrats in power.

There are at present four Democrats, two Independents and one colored Republican on the Board of Council.

Three of the Democrats, Mr. Ware in the Second ward, Mr. Dalton in the Fourth and Mr. Wall in the Sixth, have no opposition and will in all probability be renominated without contest. In the Seventh ward Mr. Brasher declines to run again and several gentlemen are being discussed. Of these Mr. A. J. Reeder, Mr. Stonewall Morris, Mr. R. M. Hurt and Mr. J. W. Yancey all have some strong friends. Any one of them would make a good councilman.

In the Third ward, now represented by Dr. Bentley, the Democrats will nominate Mr. James West by general consent and he will win an easy victory. The Third was lost by a few votes in 1897, under circumstances that cannot occur again under the present law. Mr. West is one of Hopkinsville's best citizens and so popular in his ward that it is doubtful if there will be any organized opposition to him from any source.

In the First ward the Democrats also expect to gain a member. It is now represented by Mr. Tibbs. Three or four names have been suggested for this nomination. Mr. M. W. Davis, Mr. Allan M. Wallis, Col. J. O. Cooper and Mr. I. F. Campbell are all being talked about in connection with the nomination. The latter will be put forward as the representative of the young Democracy, as many young men room and board in this down-town ward. If Fletcher puts in he will be hard to head off for the nomination and still harder to beat at the election.

The Council to be elected will appoint all officers except the Mayor and Police Judge, who hold over until Jan. 1, 1902.

GOEBEL CLUB.

Bowling Green Democrats Combine, With a Good Membership.

Bowling Green, Aug. 22.—A Goebel club was organized at the court house here last night. Already there are over 600 names enrolled, and it is believed that the list will reach 1,500 within the next two weeks. Judge W. E. Settle opened the meeting with a speech. Dr. T. B. Wright was elected President; Capt. James A. Clarke, Vice President; Geo. R. Gorin, Secretary, and W. H. Phillips, Treasurer. After the business of the meeting was transacted Ed Hobdy, of Franklin, addressed the meeting. He was extremely bitter against John Young Brown.

John Young Brown will open his campaign here on Saturday next. A big crowd is expected to be on hand, as it is understood excursions will be run into the city from all the surrounding counties.

GET A ROPE.

Masked Man Assaults a Calloway County Girl.

Paducah, Ky., Aug. 23.—There is great excitement near Kirksey, Calloway county. Miss Dora Manning, of that section, was out gathering vegetables in the afternoon when a masked man stole up behind her, overpowered and assaulted her. He gagged her and tied her to a tree in order to insure his escape and his identity is not known. Posses are scouring the country for him.

Breaking Up Sitters.

Some find the breaking up of sitters a very difficult thing to do, and they really think to make her abandon her desire to brood. We have known poultry men and women to duck the hen in water several times and then turn them loose; have known the hens to go about with hoods on so they could not see, and to be shut up in dark places without food or water for a week or more. It is not necessary to resort to cruel methods to break up a hen that wants to sit. What is wanted is to turn the desire to sit into the desire to lay again. It will be but little advantage to have them broken from wanting to sit and have them lay four or five eggs only to again become broody, which they will do if they are not cared for as they should be. The reason for this is that the conditions which caused the hen to become broody have not been changed and they cannot be changed by force. When a hen becomes broody it means that the egg producing capacity of her system for the time being has become exhausted and that recuperation is needed. The first step to such recuperation is rest, and being naturally an industrious bird, they feel that they may as well raise a brood while resting as to fool away their time. Some animals and birds may be stimulated to do that which is not natural for them but it is best? The tired hen may be urged on by the aid of a whip.

A practice that is recommended by some thoughtful breeders which will break the hen, and at the same time have her in a good condition to go right to business, is to place one egg under her, letting her sit for one week, feeding her once in two days during the time as if she were really sitting on a whole clutch. But very little food will be needed on account of lack of exercise. At the close of the week place her in a coop with a slatted bottom raised a few inches from the ground, for a couple of days and she will lose her desire to sit in a few days, and will begin laying in earnest.—The Orange News.

The Man Behind the Hen.

We heard not a little said during our late war with Spair, about "the man behind the gun,"—that it was the man, rather than the gun, that achieved such gratifying successes. It is precisely so in poultry raising; the man, rather than the hen, "the man behind the hen," makes the success or muddles the prospect of it.

This was forcibly impressed upon us during a recent visit to Maine, where we found two young men making an excellent success with broiler chickens, although they are four miles from the steamboat landing, and a long, long way from depots of supplies and markets. With a couple of incubators and a fifty-foot long hot water pipe brooder house, they have raised about twelve hundred broiler chicks this year, and a finer lot than those we saw being dressed for market it would be hard to find.

The two young men are working to get money to complete their education, one of them being in the Harvard medical, and the other the law school; and they will clear enough on the twelve hundred chickens to be a substantial help to them in the coming college year's expenses. After the pressure of broiler work is over they plan to build house room for about a hundred good pullets, and they "expect to clean they get this fall and winter.

This is a typical example of New England "thrift," and is particularly interesting only because the raising men turned to poultry raising as the most promising branch of farm work, the opening through which they could reach sure and immediate returns. The lack of a well equipped poultry plant didn't discourage them, not having good stock didn't "hush" them. They went to work with the material within reach, and because they are the right "men behind the hens," they are winning success.—Farm-Poultry.

Sit and Set.

An old number of the Poultry Keeper gives the following lesson in grammar:

Boys and girls, look out that you do not get into the habit of using "set" for "sit" and "lay" for "lie." They are very common errors of speech, and when you once get into the habit of using them it is hard to break up, like all bad habits. You can "lie" down, but you must "lay" your coat down. You can "sit" down, but you must "set" your hat down. You can "set" a hen, but the hen must "sit" on the eggs. You "lie" down to-day, you "lay" down yesterday, or you have "lain" down at some previous time. You "lay" your coat down to-day, you "laid" it down yesterday.

It is all very well to say you can "set" a hen, but the hen must "sit" on the eggs. This, however, does not specifically answer a question which sometimes agitates poultry people, viz: Should one say a "setting" of eggs or a "sitting" of eggs? Some persons use one form and some another, and in our opinion either is equally correct. Thus, a "setting" of eggs is a sufficient number to "set" a hen, or it may be a sufficient number for a hen to "sit" on—a distinction without a difference. Take your choice.—Ohio P. Journal.

An Egg Sharper.

There are "sharper" in all lines of business. Unfortunately the poultry industry is no exception. These fellows prey on the community for a time, but sooner or later they come to grief. The Memphis Scimitar tells of one of these cunning rogues who was arraigned in the United States court at Memphis charged with using the mails to defraud. The fellow advertised for sale settings of eggs of a certain kind at a figure much less than that for which this particular kind of eggs could be purchased, and he offered as a guarantee ten dollars for a chicken hatched from one of the eggs which was of a kind other than that of the eggs offered.

The man did a land office business for a while and realized handsomely on ever sale, for in each "setting" of thirteen which he sold there were twelve common eggs and one of the kind he advertised. In order to save himself on his guarantee the fellow boiled the common eggs, so that they would not hatch, and of course there was no chance for a buyer to get more than one chicken from a setting. That chicken, however, was of the kind advertised.

This man's bright idea caused him to spend eighteen months in prison.—Ohio Poultry Journal.

OFFICE 112 SOUTH MAIN STREET.

—FRIDAY, AUG. 2, 1890—

It is about time to start the circulation of the Brownie petitions.

Gov. Bradley didn't go to the opening of his friend Bill Taylor.

Mississippi Democrats have nominated A. H. Longino for Governor.

Ex-Gov. Brown will open his "campaign" at Bowling Green tomorrow.

Senator Blackburn is authority for the statement that Wat Hardin will take the stump for the Democratic ticket.

Speaker Reed has settled all discussions as to his intentions by resigning his seat in Congress, the resignation to take effect Sept. 4.

A special election will be held in Blaine's old district in Missouri next Tuesday and the Republicans are trying to capture it with a Hanna boodle fund.

Taylor's attack on Gov. Brown's administration will keep the ex-Governor employed without bothering about the Goebel law. Go for him, Governor, go for him.

Rev. B. F. Hungerford, a Baptist minister of Shelbyville, has tendered his services on the stump for the Democratic ticket and will be given some speaking appointments.

Tom Pettit and Ben Birkhead, the Populist leaders of Daviess county, will take the stump for Goebel and help to lighten "The White Man's Burden."

Rev. F. H. Kerfoot, of Louisville, has sued the Shelbyville Sentinel for $25,000 for alleged libel. The Sentinel roasted him for going into politics and abusing Goebel.

The Populists campaign will open September 1, with speaking in ten counties. Ignatius Donnelly, Jerry Simpson, Tom Watson and Golden Rule Jones, of Ohio, Senator Butler, of South Carolina, and Clyde Davis, of Texas, are among the notables who are expected to speak in this state.

Hon. Henry D. Clayton, of Alabama, Congressman and member of the National Committee, is filling a week's appointments in central Kentucky this week with Congressman Settle. Next week he will be given six more appointments alone. He ranks high as a popular orator.

We are able to give to our readers to-day Senator Blackburn's great speech delivered at Mayfield and since delivered at various other places with new features added. This speech and that of Senator Goebel published in the KENTUCKIAN last Friday, present the claims of the Democratic ticket for support in the present campaign in such a way that the issues before the people are clearly defined. If your mind is not made up read the speech on the second page. If you are for the Democratic ticket, read it anyhow.

The following Democratic speeches will be made next Monday:

Bowling Green, Wm. Goebel and J. C. S. Blackburn.

Lawrenceburg, C. C. McChord.

Louisia, W. A. Byron, of Brookville, and M. M. Redwine, of Sandy Hook.

Hawesville, Thos. S. Pettit, of Owensboro.

Mt. Vernon, R. C. Warren, of Stanford.

LaGrange, E. E. Settle, of Owenton.

Owensboro, W. T. Ellis.

Baffled at every turn, desperate to the last degree, the Louisville Dispatch announces that it will turn hyena and dig into the grave of John L. Sandford next Sunday to find a witness against Wm. Goebel. Senator Goebel has nothing to lose by the publication of the truth about this tragedy. Sandford had threatened to kill Goebel on sight and when they met attacked him and attempted to carry out his threat. His shot grazed Goebel's side, but Goebel with his characteristic coolness and courage took better aim and Sandford fell dead with a bullet between his eyes, before he could shoot again. Two grand juries investigated the killing and declined to indict Goebel and Gov. Brown offered him a pardon in advance, which Goebel declined.

All indications point to a red-hot campaign this year. Politics is almost the sole topic of conversation on the streets during these sultry dog-days. Voters are rapidly lining up and the Democrats are being stirred up as they have not been stirred for nine years in Christian. If hard work will accomplish results, Christian county will be redeemed.

The Brownie ticket is already beginning to go to pieces. Rev. E. O. Guerrant refuses to run for Superintendent of Public Instruction, on the ground that he does not mix politics and religion, and the vacancy on the ticket has been filled by the appointment of Rev. G. C. Overstreet, of Spencer county. Why not Rev. H. R. Coleman?

Capt. Jno. W. Throckmorton, Republican nominee for Commissioner of Agriculture, was the conductor in charge of the L. & N. special train that took Taylor from Richmond to London Tuesday, to open his campaign for Governor.

Grand Cake Walk every body.

Children's cake walk at 11 o'clock.

When all showed so much proficiency it would perhaps seem invidious to mention any. The manner in which it was carried out reflects great credit on its promoters. The children's cake walk was an especially entertaining feature and created a great deal of fun. It was certainly a fine burlesque. The prize was awarded to Frank and Mary Cunningham. Another handsome cake was awarded to Miss Susan Syper, as being the most popular young lady.

A vote of thanks was sincerely felt if not publicly tendered to Mrs. Syper and her accomplished assistants for the delightful cake, cream and sherbet which was served after the performance was over.

A repetition of this concert I am sure would be highly appreciated and largely attended. In this connection I want to say that the entertainment was not a charitable one, but a purely private enterprise and netted about 10 dollars.

In conclusion permit me to say that T. L. Moss I hardly believe, (even if he holds out) will cast the only anti-Goebel Democratic vote at Bennettstown precinct.

LOST A LEG.

Will Gaither Crushed by the Cars Near Nortonville.

Will Gaither, a colored employe of the I. C. Railroad company, jumped from a Southbound L. & N. freight train near Nortonville about 2 o'clock yesterday morning and was badly crushed by the cars.

Gaither claims that he went to Henderson to meet the pay car and after being paid off boarded an L. & N. freight to come to Nortonville, intending to go from the latter place to his home in Princeton.

Just before reaching Nortonville he claims a brakeman threatened to shoot him if he did not get off the train. He jumped and fell under the cars. His left leg was badly crushed below the knee and his face was horribly bruised. Gaither was brought to this city yesterday morning on the St. Louis fast mail and his leg was amputated by Dr. J. B. Jackson, assisted by Drs. R. L. Woodard and T. P. Thomas. The chances are considered favorable for his recovery.

CUT BY A CRANE.

L. & N. Fireman Knocked Senseless While on Duty.

Charles S. Jackson, an L. & N. fireman, was struck by a mail crane at Kelly Tuesday afternoon and badly hurt. The crane had been set with the mail bag for the South bound passenger train and the North bound freight on which Jackson was firing, was passing when he leaned out of the cab and was hit. His face and head were badly cut and he was knocked senseless.

The engineer did not discover the accident until he was nearing Crofton, the next station. Jackson's injuries were looked after by Dr. S. H. Williams, the L. & N. Surgeon at the latter place and he was able to be taken to his home at Howell, Ind., Tuesday night.

Hopkinsville Had a Regular Walk-Over on Wednesday.

The Sturgis base ball nine played Hopkinsville on the latter's diamond two days of this week. On Wednesday the locals had a walk-over, the score resulting in a ratio of 10 to 1. Yesterday's game was in progress when we went to press. Large crowds were in attendance.

Manager Bassett will sign for other games next week. It is likely that the Tullahoma, Tenn., team will be the next nine to cross bats with the local.

GOEBEL MAN

Will Sue Bolters For Wrongfully Using His Name.

Mr. C. B. Dillingham, of White Plains, whose name was placed in the list of bolters widely scattered in circular form, has denounced it as entirely unauthorized and will bring suit for damages. This is perhaps the first suit of the kind on record, but good lawyers say it can be maintained under the Kentucky statutes.

HE IS FOR GOEBEL.

A Republican Who Is Outspoken For The Next Governor.

Col. Alex D. Rodgers, of Henderson, is in the city working up the street fair for Oct. 4 to 7 and though a life-long Republican is a strong Goebel man. He says there are a number of Goebel Republicans in Henderson. Phil Kleiderer being another of the prominent ones. Col. Rodgers says he is for Goebel because he admires intellect and Goebel is the smartest man in the United States.

WHAT THE BANKS PAY.

Assessed For Nearly a Half Million Dollars.

The State Board of Valuation has assessed the banks of the county as follows:

Bank of Hopkinsville.....	$256,460
City Bank.....	121,799
Planters Bank.....	51,790
Bank of Lafayette.....	7,600
Pembroke Deposit Bank.....	33,086
F. & M. Bank, Pembroke.....	15,547

Total.....$486,292
The county and state taxes on this assessment will be $4,862.92 and the city taxes of Hopkinsville's three banks will be $5,375.65. This is an increase of something like $7,000, as under the old law the banks paid only 75 cents on the hundred dollars and it all went to the state.

The First National Bank is not included in the above exhibit.

STREET FAIR.

Hopkinsville Will Have One The First Week In October.

Col. A. D. Rodgers, of Henderson, Will Work It Up and Furnish Star Attractions.

The Council held a special meeting Wednesday night and granted Col. A. D. Rodgers permission to work up a street fair in the city on Oct. 4, 5, 6 and 7.

Col. Rodgers is in the city and says he will bring with him a complete line of attractions and the streets of the city will look like the Midway Pleasance at the World's Fair. The merchants will of course furnish their own exhibits, decorate their buildings, adorn their windows, etc.

The fair company will furnish free entertainment in the way of rope walking, jugglery, trapeze acting, balloon ascension daily, fire works at night, music and platform exercises of various kinds. Everything will be free and on the streets.

The same kind of fair will be held in Henderson the last week in September. On the 26th Bryan and other Democratic orators are booked to speak and on the 27th the Republicans will be given speaking privileges.

Cures For Feather Pulling.

The annoying habit of feather pulling is due to one of three causes, says the American Farmer. Foremost is the feather-puller who engages in the occupation because she is too well fed and does not have room for exercise. This is difficult to overcome, but if it cannot be broken by putting the birds on short rations and making them scratch for what they want, then chop off their heads as the only effectual remedy. When feather-pulling occurs in a flock of apparently healthy exercising fowls, it may be caused by the presence of a mite at the base of the feathers. Examine the birds closely, and if mites are at the bottom of the trouble a small mass of gray scales will be found near the roots of the feathers. Apply carbolated vaseline, obtainable at all drug stores for a few cents, in small quantities twice a day until the parasites are destroyed. This same remedy may be applied when it is found that scurvy is the cause of feather-pulling. This disease is apt to occur when the fowls are kept in dark damp and foul houses, or when they are overcrowded and lack sufficient green food and grit. An abundance of green food will do more to remedy the trouble than anything else. Feather-pulling does not always go with scurvy, for the disease may be so bad that the feathers fall out on the head, leaving a bare spot and showing a pale, unhealthy skin.—Wisconsin Agriculturist.

The Inbreeding Humbug.

The other day I received a letter from an Indiana breeder. He wanted me to reserve him a cockerel, for delivery about September 1st. He said he wanted a bird that was not in-bred even in the slightest degree. I wrote him, saying I would be able to send him a large, vigorous cockerel in the fall, one properly marked, but he would be an in-bred bird. Then I went on at great length to show to this man that I did not breed at guess work, that of necessity my stock was line-bred, and this to a certain class of people, means that the stock is in-bred. Now I have written and re-written about line breeding. In this enlightened age such preaching ought not to be necessary, but it is. This man is entirely honest in his position. He has been reading the so-called poultry department in his favorite farm paper. He believes in changing "roosters" every year. And unless he sees the error of his way he will go on and on breeding from chance blood every year and never coming within 1,000 miles of the coveted position of the fancier. My friend who are going to buy a male bird this fall, let me say to you, do not buy one of these "new blood every year" productions. No matter what variety you are breeding, make your purchase of a breeder who has built up his stock on systematic lines. If you do, you will have a bird that is capable of throwing chicks of even worth. If your females contain no blood of this male, do not expect high-scoring chicks next year, no matter how good in markings or how well bred the male may be. The conflict of blood will result in the first crop of chicks being of uneven Standard markings. Secure an extra good male, line-bred, and the second year breed his pullets back to him. You will thus take

SELECTING A CAT.

Panther Imports Some Valuable Hints to Children in Search of Feline Pets.

Most of the cats that children have for pets are new-bred. They just wander into a house, purr contentedly about some member of the family, are given a saucer of milk, petted a bit, and, before anybody realizes it, the stray visitor has settled down in the household.

That is the way cats are usually adopted, and sometimes these chance pussies make the best sort of companions. But now and then a boy or girl is promised a cat and given an opportunity to pick one out at a regular cat store. Then, of course, the greatest taste and care are exercised in making the choice. Here is something a cat fancier has to say about selecting a pet.

"To find a good-natured cat, just the sort for a child to play with, look for a well-developed bump on its head, between the ears. It should have a nose that is round and short, kind of a pug, and full cheeks and upper lip. The cat whose nose is thin and sharp, and whose ears twitch nervously, will never make a good pet. As for mousers, they are rather tricky when it comes to petting. The keen mouser has full, sharp and eloquent eyes.

"The best and gentlest of cats, though, can be ruined by overfeeding. Too much meat is always bad, but especially in warm weather. Cats, as well as people, grow cross and irritable if their stomachs are out of order."—N. Y. Herald.

GOT THE OTHER ONE.

A Second Lynching at Fulton Sunday Night.

Fulton, Ky., Aug. 20.—Squab Bolin, colored, was hanged last night by a mob. The penalty for which he surrendered his life was highway robbery and murder.

For the past two months this section has been infested with a gang of thieves who have been robbing houses and holding up people on the lonely and secluded highways. Three weeks ago Bolin and another negro named Henry Stewart held up Section Foreman Shoat, relieving him of $85. On this same night they robbed Gail Hamilton of $13, and then shot and killed him. Bolin escaped at the time, but Stewart was captured and hanged by a mob the night after the murder.

Bolin was captured yesterday at Milan, Tenn., and brought here last night by Officer McDade and Deputy Sheriff George W. Lovell. Before they could place their prisoner in the lock-up they were surrounded and over-powered by the mob, who took Bolin, to a secluded spot back of the Fulton Lumber Company's plant, and hanged him to a tree. The negro confessed his guilt.

The body was cut down this morning and an inquest was held by Squire Alex Roberts, who returned a verdict that the negro came to his death by unknown hands. People were very unconcerned this morning on learning the news of the lynching.

SHOOT IT INTO BROWN.

The Man Who Did all He Could to Defeat Hardin the Last Time.

Hon. John B. Thompson, declares that he is no bolter, and will vote the Democratic ticket from top to bottom.

"Will you take the stump for the ticket?" he was asked.

"Yes, I shall make several speeches in our county—Mercer—and elsewhere, if desired."

"What do you think of the bolting movement and personnel of the proposed ticket?"

"I believe that John Young Brown is the weakest man they could put up. Granting that Goebel is a better Democrat than Brown, Goebel never was accused of disloyalty to his party. I should never have voted for Brown in the convention under any circumstances. He helped to throw Wat Hardin down in 1895. He was throwing stink-pots at Hardin all the time, and much of the ammunition of the Republicans is said to have been furnished from his office. He is in no shape to call for Democratic support, especially from Hardin men."

So long as meat is not necessary in the construction of American pigs, there will be no armed revolt against the meat trust.

"More haste, less speed," hasten slowly," are proverbs born of experience that some things can't be hurried without loss and waste. That is especially true of eating. The railway lunch habit, "five minutes for refreshments," is a habit most disastrous to the health. You may hurry your eating. You can't hurry your digestion, and the neglect to allow proper time for this important function is the beginning of sorrows to many a busy man. When the tongue is food, the head aches, when there are sour or bitter risings, undue fullness after eating, hot flushes, irritability, nervousness, irresolution, cold extremities, and other annoying symptoms, be sure the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition have "broken down." Nothing will re-establish them in active healthy operation so quickly as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It strengthens the stomach, nourishes the nerves, purifies the blood, and builds up the body. It is a strictly temperate medicine containing no alcohol or other intoxicant.

HERE is a medical lecture in a nutshell. The Kidneys drain water and impurities from the blood. The Liver makes bile and helps to drive off other waste. If these organs work badly the body becomes a cesspool and disease sets in. You must get them into healthy action or die.

Another Parrot Story.

A ticket-seller in a theatre once owned a parrot that was quick at learning to repeat phrases that he heard. The ticket man went into the country for a summer vacation and took the parrot along. One day the parrot got out of his cage and disappeared. His owner searched all about for him and finally, toward evening, found him despoiled of half his feathers, sitting far out on the limb of a tree, while a dozen crows were picking at him whenever they could get a chance, and all the time the poor parrot was edging away from the crows and constantly exclaiming, in imitation of his master, "One at a time gentlemen; one at a time."—Fanciers' Magazine.

Diseases of Chickens.

Nearly all of the diseases of chickens, summer or winter, can be put under one of two classes; inherited or caused by unnatural conditions or food. If we classify them thus broadly it may simplify matters for so many of them can more intelligently stamp them out.

The first class sometimes in the remote past must have been under the second class. That is, all of the diseases that could be traced back to unnatural or unfavorable conditions or food. But that was so long ago that we must take cognizance of the inherited diseases. These are quite numerous and it is only sure way to do it is to breed from chickens that have no taint of inherited disease about them. The time must soon come when poultry raisers will pay more attention to this subject. At present we raise chickens with little regard to the health of their ancestors. Often the eggs are obtained from sources that are not well known. That is, the chickens will be cranked up as being first-class so far as pedigree and breed go, but little is said about the diseases that have been acquired and are now hereditary. We must inquire into this question in purchasing breeding hens or eggs.

A disease that is transmitted down through one generation to another of chickens is just as apt to become epidemic as any which attack cattle or human beings. The best, and about the only way, to stamp out contagious or inherited disease is to destroy all the creatures that show symptoms of it, and then breed carefully from those that do not have it.

The other wide class of chicken diseases, which includes many of the inherited and epidemic ones, comes from causes that can generally be remedied. Filth, dirt, unnatural food, and surroundings generally, especially in winter, are the primary causes of these diseases. Roup may often be inherited, but it is also acquired by exposure to dampness and unsanitary pens. Leg weakness is characteristic of some breeds of fowls, but it is also due to overfeeding and a lack of lime-forming food. Bowel trouble comes from improper food, although this may in time be transplanted by inheritance. Lice come from poor winter quarters, and they may in time start up numerous diseases that will greatly increase the mortality of chickens. So it is possible to go through the whole list and show that all of them are due to one or the other of these two causes.—Anne C. Webster in Wisconsin Agriculturist.

Hen's Eggs as Food.

Readers will be interested in what appears below, which we take from a bulletin lately issued from the U. S. Department of Agriculture:

The value of any food is determined not alone by its composition, but also by its digestibility. It is evident that if two foods have the same composition, but, owing to physical properties or other cause, the first gives up twice as much material to the body in its passage through the stomach as the second, its much more valuable. In connection with other work, the digestibility of eggs was studied at the Minnesota Station. Five experiments were made by means of a pepsin solution to determine the digestibility of eggs cooked under different conditions. Eggs were cooked for 3 minutes at 212 deg. F., giving a soft-boiled egg, and for 5 minutes and 20 minutes at the same temperature. An egg boiled for 3 minutes and digested for 5 hours in pepsin solution, compared with one boiled 20 minutes and treated in the same way, showed 8.3 per cent undigested protein in the latter. Under similar treatment the egg boiled 5 minutes gave 3.9 per cent undigested protein.

Another trial was then made in which the eggs were cooked for periods of 6 and 10 minutes in water at 180 deg. F. In both of these cases the protein was entirely digested in 5 hours.

These results would indicate that while the method of cooking has some effect upon the rate of digestibility, it does not materially affect the total digestibility. The results agree quite closely with those reported some years ago by Rubner, a German investigator, who found that 97.1 of the protein of hard-boiled eggs was digested.

At the Minnesota Station a digestion experiment was also made with a healthy man, in which a very considerable portion of the nitrogenous material and fat of the ration was furnished by eggs, the other foods eaten being potatoes, milk and cream. About 90 per cent. of the total nitrogenous material and 90 per cent. of the fat consumed were digested. In experiments at the University of Tennessee with healthy men on a diet of bread, milk and eggs, from 90 to 95 per cent. each of the protein and fat were digested. The conclusion, therefore, seems warranted that, as shown by composition and digestibility, eggs possess the high nutritive properties which are popularly assigned to them.—Ohio Poultry Journal.

A FABLE.

Mabel's Father Didn't Seem To Mind.

Once upon a time there was a comic lover named George, who was sitting on the front porch, with a good side hold on your old friend, Mabel. They were looking into each other's eyes at close range and using a rancid line of nursery talk. It was the kind of conversation calculated to jar a person. George murmured that Mabel was George's own baby-daddy, and she allowed that he was a tooney-wooney little bad boy to hold his itty-bitsy bun of a Mabel so tight she could hardly breathe. It was the sort of dialogue that Susan B. Anthony would love to sit up nights and read.

While they were clinched Mabel's father, a large, self-made man, came down the stairway and out to the veranda. This is where the fable begins to differentiate. Although the girl's name was Mabel and the young man's name was George, and the father was a self-made man, the father did not kick the young man. He asked him if he had anything to smoke. George gave him an Imported Panetella and said he didn't believe it was going to rain. Mabel's father said it looked black in the West, but he reckoned it might blow around, like as not. Mabel said she wouldn't be a bit surprised if it did blow around. Then Mabel's father told Mabel she could show George where the ice-box wuz in case he expressed a Hankerin', and then he went down street to examine some fishing tackle just purchased by a friend of his in the hay and feed business. Just as father struck the cement walk George changed to a strange hold.

YOUNGEST PRESIDENT.

John Henry MacCracken Is Only 23 Years Old, but Is President of Missouri College.

The age of John Henry MacCracken, the youngest college President on the continent, is only twenty-three years and nine months, as appears from the freshman matriculation book of New York University.

According to this book he entered college in June, 1890, at the age of fourteen, when he won the entrance prize of $50 by competitive examination. He carried off every other prize open to his class, among them the James Gordon Bennett prize of $60 for the best essay on the Interstate Railway Commission, and the Ogden Butler fellowship of $300 for the best work on philosophy and the classics.

His class awarded him the Presidency for the senior year, which required him, on Founders' Day, 1894, to lay the first stone at University Heights. This stone was carried by his class, in a tally-ho coach from the walls of the old building, at Washington Square, and placed under the gymnasium, where it is now.

The young President returns from Germany this month to take up his duties at Westminster College, Fulton, Mo.

The Post-Dispatch small ad's have added greatly to the prosperity of many advertisers.

Tap, tap all day at the machine until the head throbs with every tap. And when the machine stops for the day the throbbing still goes on. More than any other class of women the large army of women clerks needs to closely watch the health of the organs peculiarly womanly. For the general health will be disturbed just in proportion as the local health of the delicate, womanly organs is disturbed. With irregularities there will come pains in the head, the back or side, nausea and general misery. The happiness of the future life of the wife and mother may be entirely ruined by neglect of the health at this critical period.

Women confined in offices, shut out from necessary exercise will find a faithful friend in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It so regulates the womanly functions and so strengthens the delicate organs that pain from these causes will be absolutely done away with and future health be perfectly assured.

There is no opium, cocaine or other narcotic in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Neither does it contain alcohol. It is a purely vegetable preparation.

"I was so weak I did not seem to walk," writes Miss Mary of New Brunswick, Calumet Co., Ky. "My periods occurred too often and the hemorrhage was prolonged and the loss of blood very excessive. I was very nervous and the doctor said I was hysterical. I could not tell when they were coming but they came every week. My stomach would cramp until I could not stand straight. This would last for several hours. I did not gain much strength and I could not work at all. I was very weak and nervous all the time. I was advised by a friend to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which I did and before I had taken five bottles of Dr. Pierce's I was able to use any other medicine. I have never had a return and I feel strong and well. I can praise Dr. Pierce's medicines enough, for I they saved my life."

Insects Destroying Grass, Corn and Other Crops.

Tobacco Cutting Commences—Deaths and Other Items From North Christian.

Crofton, Ky., Aug. 24.—An insect resembling the army worm is devastating the grass and crops over the section of country west of this place, and thus far the farmers seem utterly helpless. The insects are about an inch and a half long and nearly black. Many farms have been visited by these in large numbers and in a very short time acres of millet have been cut down and ruined, while other grasses share a similar fate. They also attack the corn and strip the stalk of all the fodder.
